8.6 If Item 8.5 is less than 2 quarters, please provide answers to the following questions:

- Does the entity expect that it will continue to have the current level of net operating cash flows for the time being and, if not, why not?

As announced on 25 March 2020 the Company implemented strategies to ensure it is in the strongest possible position financially. These strategies are focused on liquidity management and include deferment of non-essential capital, cost reductions and continuity of its production and research operations. To lower our costs all staff in Australia and the United Kingdom have agreed to a deferment of 20% of their current remuneration. The senior leadership team has agreed to a deferment of up to 75% of their remuneration.

- Has the entity taken any steps, or does it propose to take any steps, to raise further cash to fund its operations and, if so, what are those steps and how likely does it believe that they will be successful?

As announced on 24 April 2020 the Company advised it would be launching a non-remunerable entitlement issue of one (1) Share for every ten (10) Shares held by those Shareholders registered at the Record Date at an issue price of $0.13 per Share to raise up to $6,175,911 (based on the number of Shares on issue as at the date of this Prospectus), together with one (1) free attaching Option (New Option) for every one (1) Share subscribed for and issued.

3. Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?

The Company will continue its operations and continue to meet its business objectives as the world's leading graphene company. The Company has adequate PureGRAPH® product in stock to meet our customers' foreseeable requirements and is therefore able to reduce production costs, while continuing to meet stakeholder requirements.

Notes

1. This quarterly cash flow report and the accompanying activity report provide a basis for informing the market about the entity's activities for the past quarter, how they have been financed and the effect this has had on its cash position. An entity that wishes to disclose additional information over and above the minimum required under the Listing Rules is encouraged to do so.
2. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, the definitions in, and provisions of, AASB 107: Statement of Cash Flows apply to this report. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with other accounting standards agreed by ASX pursuant to Listing Rule 19.11A, the corresponding equivalent standard applies to this report.
3. Dividends received may be classified either as cash flows from operating activities or cash flows from investing activities, depending on the accounting policy of the entity.
4. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the board". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a committee of your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the [name of board committee – eg Audit and Risk Committee]". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a disclosure committee, you can insert here: "By the Disclosure Committee".
5. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors and you wish to hold yourself out as complying with recommendation 4.2 of the ASX Corporate Governance Council's Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations, the board should have received a declaration from its CEO and CFO that, in their opinion, the financial records of the entity have been properly maintained, that this report complies with the appropriate accounting standards and gives a true and fair view of the cash flows of the entity, and that their opinion has been formed on the basis of a sound system of risk management and internal control which is operating effectively.
